Interview Notes on New Nominees:

I have been actively recruiting Anya Schauer mann for the parks advisory committee for over a year now. Now that their house in the Hammond district is finished, I'm pleased she has agreed to apply. While I have not formally interviewed her, my multiple interactions with her—as well as many others making positive references for her, I felt it was not necessary to do a pro forma interview. She is a teacher at Anchor Christian Academy, and I often run into her at the Carruthers dog park to Enterprise trail. She is a young mother who uses the trails and can lend firsthand experience and understanding of the missing connections and condition of our Hammond district parks, as well as the parks in other districts.

I met Michelle Murray at an event at the Library last year and she was full of energy and excitement for what is going on in our town. She hails from Idaho, where she has owned several successful companies, as well as used to do event management with large rodeos in the Boise area. In my phone follow up interview with her, she was excited about the cornhole tournament Parks Chair, Sara Long is planning and has experience with such events as well. She also used to be a paddleboard instructor and didn't know we had a paddleboard/kayak dock and would like to dig into how to best make that a more known/accessible asset. She has both keen interests in the library and our parks, and a lot of energy which I think will be put to great use on both those boards.

Persons Applied, but not nominated:¹

- Gil Gramson, Parks Advisory Cte
- Allen Berry, Parks Advisory Cte & Planning Commission (last year submittal, informal request for reconsideration this year via FB)

Below is recommended motions for appointments. If there are any questions, I would be happy to answer them.

Sincerely,

Henry A. Balensifer III
Mayor
